

I would support the Narrow Band frequency allocation of 1800 to 1843 KhZ.
I have been a ham for approximately 50 years and the plan supports common usage over the years, sections allocated to narrow bandwidth modes. Speaking as a practicing Electrical Engineer with years of communications experience, the restricted sub band allows for the efficient use of less complex and inexpensive equipment.